St. Clair County Health Department Celebrates National Public Health Week
Protecting, Connecting, & Thriving: We Are All Public Health

The St. Clair County Health Department (SCCHD) is excited to recognize National Public Health Week \(NPHW\), occurring from April 1-7. NPHW is an annual observance that aims to raise awareness of public health and promote initiatives to enhance community well-being.

Throughout the week, SCCHD's social media will highlight different aspects of public health, each day dedicated to a specific theme:

- Monday: We Are All Public Health
- Tuesday: Healthy Neighborhoods
- Wednesday: Community Design
- Thursday: New Tools and Innovations
- Friday: Reproductive and Sexual Health
- Saturday: Emergency Preparedness
- Sunday: Building a Stronger Public Health Infrastructure

"We are thrilled to recognize National Public Health Week and engage with the community on various aspects of public health," said Liz King, Health Officer-Director at the St. Clair County Health Department. King continued, "Through these initiatives, we hope to inspire action and create a healthier community for all."
